

Top UK Cosmetic Surgeon

Becomes first accredited Breform trainer

Dalvi Humzah

Leading UK cosmetic surgeon and former C4 'Embarrassing Bodies' expert Dalvi Humzah has been announced as the first fully accredited national Breform™ trainer in the UK. Nicknamed 'the internal bra', the procedure involves a mesh wiring device which is simply inserted under the skin to physically and permanently lift up sagging breasts. Breform™ appointed Mr Humzah based on his specialist technique, previous training credentials and his experience in performing the most Breform™ procedures in the UK to date.

Mr Humzah said he was delighted and honoured to accept the accreditation, which will see him offering specialist training to fellow professional cosmetic surgeons in private clinics and hospitals across the country.

He said: "I will work directly with

Breform™ to increase the number of fully trained surgeons offering this exclusive treatment for patients in both private hospitals and the NHS.

"As a former tutor and examiner for the Royal College of Surgeons, I am very much looking forward to teaching my techniques in this procedure to fellow professional surgeons. Breform™ is becoming ever more popular in the UK with many women opting for this permanent breast uplifting solution over traditional breast cosmetic procedures."

Mr Humzah has been performing Breform™ procedures in the UK since July 2009. Dalvi is still only one of 11 practitioners in the UK to offer the non-traditional breast treatment, which is particularly beneficial to women looking for an alternative treatment to restore breasts to their once youthful shape.

It offers patients an extremely natural-looking result that does not diminish over time, meaning the treatment offers patients a permanent cosmetic solution. Breform™ is supplied exclusively in the UK by CloverLeaf Medical based in Buckinghamshire.

Matt Clegg, sales director at CloverLeaf Medical, said: "We are delighted to have Mr Humzah on board as an accredited Breform trainer. "The demand for UK based training is extremely high and with the help of our first accredited trainer we hope to increase the growing list of surgeons specialised in this area. By taking on this role, Mr Humzah will be at the forefront of our 'live theatre' training program during 2011. He will also support us in our decision to offer accredited status to fellow cosmetic surgeons in the field."

For more information on Breform, or other procedures offered by Mr Humzah, please call 0800 084 2321 or visit www.pdsurgery.co.uk.

Call now to find out more about the procedures available on: 01902 793259 or visit www.nuffieldhealth.com
You couldn't be in better hands.

Nuffield Health
Wolverhampton Hospital
Wood Road
Tettenhall
Wolverhampton
WV6 8LE

